The initiatic way of the legat Appius, in the mysterious Orient

71 before J.-C. Defeated by the roman army, the king Mithridate finds refuge near the mighty sovereign of Armenia : Tigrane, called the King of Kings.

Rome sends the young and arrogant legat Appius to bring back Mithridate and to confront Tigrane.

On his way to Orient, he will have to fight against pirates and he will meet strange characters : Em'Kbar the taciturn shepherd, Sha'ri the sorceress, and La Griffé, the bloody pirate. Their fate seem to be linked by unmentionable secrets and by a kid who only speak to horses.

Arrived in Armenia, Appius discovers love, and also the real reasons of his mission...

Mickael Lepeintre is 27. Specialist of the Roman Era, he leads us in the legendary paces of Pompée, in the heart of the mysterious Asia Minor.

« The meeting of two legendary empires : the arrogant and invincible Rome against the proud Armenia »
